SIXTEEN RIDGES

VINEYARD

“Our Sixteen Ridges Wines are made from grapes grown on our own twenty five acre sustainable vineyard, in historic Ledbury. The provenance for our wine dates back almost one thousand years as the rich, red sandstone soil on the south facing sheltered slopes that Sixteen Ridges Wine now enjoys, is mentioned by Saint Thomas Cantilupe, Bishop of Hereford, requesting that vines were planted on the very same slopes back in 1275!

With all our facilities on one site, our dedicated team of professional growers and wine makers produce quality wines with virtually no ‘food’ miles. We are proud to be helping the planet, and very proud of our Herefordshire roots.”
